Engineering Chemistry Laboratory Practice

Course code: NGB_FI015_1
Credits: 2
Language: Hungarian

Course description: The main purpose of the course is to provide students with basic chemical skills and techniques and those application in engineering practice (e.g. pH, conductivity and density determination, water quality measurements, titration techniques for concentration determination, plastic and rubber material characterization).